V. WORKING CONDITIONS AND HOURS OF WORK

DRESS CODE

The Board has exercised its authority to specify dress and grooming guidelines for staff.

When on duty, professional staff members are expected to dress in a manner that is consistent with the expectations described in Policy 3216 – Staff Dress and Grooming.

ATTENDANCE AND REPORTING ABSENCES

Staff members are expected to report for work daily; however, when a staff member must be absent, s/he shall call in to his/her supervisor and/or the building administrator to report their absence.

In addition, the following procedure shall be followed for education classroom teachers including art, music, physical education, ELL, Title I, reading resource, K4, and special education.

- Subs are called whenever a teacher is absent. Minimum sub time for a classroom teacher is one-half day. If there are no subs available, someone within the building will cover that teacher. If a teacher needs to leave for less than a half day for an appointment, etc., every effort is made to find someone to cover for the classroom teacher (i.e., another classroom teacher, counselor, psychologist, principal) while they are gone rather than having to have the teacher commit to an entire half day sub.
- Regular teachers who do substitute during a free or preparation period will be paid at the rate of $20.00 per class period or can accumulate comp time which can be used under the same provisions of the private leave day. If it is requested in the last two weeks of school, a two week notification would be required. Time will be computed to the nearest tenth hour for substitute work during any given month. This substituting must be approved in advance by the building principal.
- Occupational therapy – No subs are used for this program when the teacher is absent unless it is for an extended period of time. Classes may also be cancelled for assessments and parent requested IEP meetings.

- Physical therapy – No subs are used for this program when the teacher is absent unless it is for an extended period of time. Classes may also be cancelled for assessments and parent requested IEP meetings.
- Hearing specialist – No subs are used for this program when the teacher is absent unless it is for an extended period of time. Classes may also be cancelled for assessments and parent requested IEP meetings.
- Vision specialist – No subs are used for this program when the teacher is absent unless it is for an extended period of time. Classes may also be cancelled for assessments and parent requested IEP meetings.
- Psychologist – No subs are used for this program when the psychologist is absent unless it is for an extended period of time.
- Counselor – No subs are used for this program when the counselor is absent unless it is for an extended period of time.

Time Off And Substitute Requests (2 Steps)

The following procedure shall be followed:

STEP 1: Time Off Requests

Illness and Personal Days – the teacher shall enter the absence in Skyward Employee Access under the Sick code and choose the appropriate reason such as Sick-Sick, Sick-Doctor, Sick-Personal, etc. The request then goes automatically to the building administrator for approval.

The absence entry into Skyward Employee Access can be entered before the absent day or after if need be. It is the teacher's responsibility to enter the absence into Skyward Employee Access.

Private Days – the teacher shall enter the absence in Skyward Employee Access. The request must be approved in advance by the building principal and the District Administrator. Policy 3432 - Staff Member Sick Leave.

TEACHING HOURS AND CLASS LOADS

This section applies to professional staff members that are teachers.

A regular teacher school year will be 190 days. The School Board will determine the annual district calendar. The teacher day will consist of an average of 330 minutes of instruction, supervision of students and student support as assigned by the building administrator. The remainder of the teacher day is for planning and preparation.

All teachers shall be provided with a daily minimum of thirty (30) continuous minutes of a duty-free lunch period. During their lunch period teachers may, at their option, leave the school grounds.

The School Board will follow the practice of Professional Hours for the teaching staff. Professional Hours is a concept that is unique among school districts. This concept offers flexibility in working conditions/hours and fosters a professional working environment between staff and administration. These guidelines will assist teachers and administrators to use each teacher's time in a manner that ensures maximum benefits to students and in a way that supports teachers to meet their personal and professional needs.

Professional Hours Guidelines:

The teacher will not have specified hours to be at school. The District has a right to expect the teacher to meet the needs of their students. This means that the teacher should be in school when a student or parent requests their help. If the teacher does not have students requiring/requesting their help and the teacher wishes to leave the building, they may. It is important, however, that the teacher inform someone in the office when they leave and when they expect to return. If the teacher leaves school early, it is good practice to check their voice mail that evening so that they may return important calls.

The District can schedule meetings at reasonable times before and after school. The teacher is expected to attend these meetings even if the meeting starts early and/or runs late. It is expected that administrators will use good judgment when scheduling meetings and the teacher in turn has a professional obligation to attend those meetings.

If there are meetings scheduled outside of "reasonable times" for such things as IEP's, 504's, open houses, back-to-school nights, or freshmen parent nights, the teacher should make every effort to attend those functions. If they cannot attend, they must let the principal know in advance.

The teacher should do the job with the time available to the best of their ability. The concept of Professional Hours was implemented in order for the teacher to use time in a way that will benefit their students and, at the same time, allow them to meet their own personal needs. Professional Hours is a two-way street. Professional Hours does not mean that the teacher may neglect their responsibilities; it is not a justification to leave the building anytime the teacher chooses. At the same time, if the teacher is fulfilling their professional responsibilities, they can use Professional Hours to meet their personal needs.

If an administrator has concerns regarding the teacher's use of Professional Hours, s/he is expected to approach the teacher on the issue. Abuse of Professional Hours may result in discipline and/or revocation of the individual's practice of Professional Hours.
